

Get There From Here

About Jennifer Gleeson Blue

"I had the good fortune of being in the audience as Jennifer gave a presentation to the Philadelphia Area Coach Alliance. She did a great job helping us to understand the differences in the generations and how that shows up in the workplace. She's funny, engaging and articulate. Couldn't ask for more out of a speaker!"

- Jerry Wistrom, Hartford, CT

"The Web seminar was interesting, insightful, and one of the most interactive sessions we've had. Our attendees thoroughly enjoyed the presentation and said it was the best they'd ever attended!" –

- Meg Simpson, Washington D.C.

Through her coaching company, Get There From Here, Jennifer Gleeson Blue uses the power of story to help her creative clients get to the stuff that matters. As a speaker, she draws upon her own creative life as an actor, musician and storyteller to engage, equip and empower audience members.

Having received coach-specific training from Coach University and Collaborative Leaders, Inc., Jennifer is an accomplished speaker, writer and coach. Additionally, she holds a bachelors degree in communication, is a past board member of the Philadelphia Area Coaches Alliance and a member of the International Coach Federation.
